

Fall 2018 Trainings

Storiez supports trauma survivors as they create, voice, and honor their life narratives and process thoughts and feelings connected to their experiences. Participants in Storiez trainings receive instruction in trauma theory and learn specific strategies to implement during trauma-focused work with clients.

Training Descriptions:

- Therapist Training: for master's level clinicians and clinicians-in-training who have a basic understanding of trauma treatment and are interested in supporting clients as they create a full trauma narrative
- DIY Training: for community members with experience working with trauma survivors and for clinicians working in brief treatment settings who want to help trauma survivors create abbreviated narratives
- Feelingz Training: for clinicians and community members seeking to help traumatized individuals and communities build healthy emotional expression skills
- Group Treatment Training: for clinicians and community members who previously participated in a Storiez Therapist Training or DIY Training who are interested in learning about group theory and the application of group theory to the Storiez process
